

READERS AND VIEWERS

Just received your summer issue in the mail! Looking forward to receiving the copies at office; it's a very popular issue! We have already had people calling/stopping by the office for a copy. Thank you for showcasing Grimsby!

Referring to your enthusiastic reader Shirley Boxem of Mulmur, I wholeheartedly agree with her. Your wonderful informative magazine brings people together who appreciate and care for this part of our glorious country. Someone once said "People protect only what they love and can love only what they understand." We all have the God-given stewardship to protect, care for and enjoy our earthly home, also are responsible toward future generations to come. Your readers and subscribers give me that impression.

During our summer visit to our family in Dundas, I greatly enjoyed reading the summer edition of NEV and in particular the guest column on the Wainfleet bog. For the past ten years I have been a volunteer warden at Natural England's Fenns and Whixall bog near Whitchurch in Shropshire. The two bogs are very similar in the challenges they face and it's great to see both in Shropshire and Ontario the great progress being made to protect and develop these hugely important natural sites and carbon sinks.

On another theme Shropshire has a large Silurian limestone escarpment - Wenlock Edge. A lot shorter than the impressive Niagara Escarpment but nevertheless geologically very similar. If your readers are ever visiting our county they will recognise the similarities.

On board the Chi-Cheemaun... guess where I found the summer edition of NEV? What a lovely surprise to see it available in the gift shop. Of course the Chi-Cheemaun is celebrating 50 years on board and have a display set up outside the lounge level showing photos of previous captains, timetable brochures and many photos of previous ships that sailed these waters + a video presentation.

Just checked out your website, and noticed that there's no listing shown for Oakville in the section "Get Free Copies of Niagara Escarpment Views Here". Your magazine is available at the Central Library, 120 Navy Street, Oakville. I
